

different provinces to establish and continue many working relationships that we have, and especially in the area of the Confucius institute... I'm certainly happy to be an advocate for the Confucius institute as much as anything."

F

Before the end of the banquet, all the chefs who worked hard in the back kitchen came to the banquet hall to meet the guests and were met with

As the world's only Confucius Institute focusing on